DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10-12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Viland (3,815,327). Viland teaches a cylindrical chamber having a tangentially located inlet port for receiving said liquid under pressure and at an elevated temperature and capable of causing said liquid to rotate circumferentially within said chamber, whereby pressure in said liquid decreases and said vapor forms bubbles which migrate toward the central axis of said chamber (fig. 1, item 57); (b) collector means axially located in said chamber capable of collecting said vapor wherein said collector means comprises an elongated hollow tube with openings to enable said vapor to enter into said tube (fig. 1, item 55 and 65); a cylindrical chamber including (i) a tangentially located inlet port (fig. 1, item 57), and (ii) an outlet port (fig. 1, items 55 and 65); (c) a cooling means surrounding said chamber (fig. 1, item 52).

Claim Allowance

Claims 1-9 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not suggest or teach an oil refining system, particularly the combination of the heating unit in combination with the vortex condenser and the particular arrangement of the condenser to effect the vapor flow in the claimed manner.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues that Viland does not teach a vortex vapor condenser because Viland teaches the vapors have already been condensed to a liquid. The examiner disagrees. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). In the instant case, because Viland teaches substantially the same structure as applicant, it is the examiner's position that the condenser in Viland perform the intended use of condensing vapor.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1725

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
